About the Seminar:

In pharmaceutical & other industries analytical chemistry provides the means of testing raw materials and for assuring the quality of finished products whose chemical composition is critical. Nowaday's instrumental methods of analysis are widely accepted over the classical chemical methods. These methods are extremely sensitive providing precise and detail information from small samples of material. For the most part they are rapidly applied and amenable to automation.

The theme of this national level workshop is "Emerging Trends in Analytical Techniques" which will provide a platform for the discussion of current trends in Analytical techniques. This event gathers all the eminent persons, professors, professionals, students, and industrialists all over the country to exchange their ideas, researchers and to exhibit their novel instruments. The seminar provides an opportunity to discuss and learn about the innovative ideas and technologies inherited in various analytical techniques such as chromatography, spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, characterizations and many more.

Objectives:

- 1. Faculty members and researchers will have exposure to the emerging trends in analytical chemistry.
- 2. Researchers engaged in different areas of pharmaceutical research & development will get a platform to discuss various approaches and their viability.
- 3. Research scholars in the field of analytical chemistry will highlight on the current ongoing in the field to add in the knowledge of participants.
- 4. Scholars working in this area will address the queries of the participants.
- 5. Resource persons will emphasize on the various aspects of spectral methods like UV-Vis spectroscopy, IR, NMR, Mass spectroscopies, separation techniques like GC, HPLC, LC-MS, GC-MS.

Resource Persons: Eminent experts from account

The college has highly qualified and experienced teaching staff to guide the students and embraces an integrated and problem based educational philosophy, hybridizing traditional and modern teaching-learning approaches that stresses heavily on outcome competencies of the graduates.

About the Seminar:

The pharmaceutical sciences represent an evolving and highly dynamic field for which innovations in the formulation development continues to be driven by the need to improve drug bioavailability and efficacy.

Many therapeutics with their distinct physical, chemical, and biopharmaceutical attributes demands new drug release technologies to diminish barriers for drug delivery, poor bioavailability, instability in GI tract and poor absorption.

In addition, innovations in excipients as well as advances in processing and manufacturing technologies are also impacting formulation development. Need for safer and more consistent drug products are shaping how formulators approach the creation of new products.

So the Recent trends in the formulation and development have overcome these problems and have achieved plasma concentration of drugs within the therapeutic window for a longer period of time in a targeted tissue thereby to ensure uniform therapeutic action with lesser side effects and toxicity, better stability, greater accessibility, ease of administration and most importantly the best patient's compliance.

In this seminar, the issues of formulation development & regulatory affairs will be discussed by eminent resource persons.

It will not only gives an idea on the pharma industries but also creates a unique approach towards novel strategies on formulation development and will focus on the several aspects requiring implementation of novel ideas to improve oral drug delivery systems.

Objectives:

- To boost collaborative research activities amongst academics and industries by providing knowledge and latest updates in the pharmaceutical field.
- 2. To uncover the opportunities and challenges in the field of drug delivery system.
- To identify drug related problems relative to specific patient cases.
- 4. To provide evidence-based drug information that meets the needs of patients and other health care providers.

Resource Persons:

Eminent experts from academia and industry will address the delegates.

Poster Presentation:

Research/review papers are invited for poster presentation at the seminar. Posters will be evaluated by eminent experts. The abstracts for the same can be mailed to trusha_p10@rediffmail.com and sujitkakade@gmail.com. The last date for submission of abstracts is 17th September 2018. Authors of the selected abstracts will be intimated by e-mail. Registration is compulsory for submission of abstracts.

Note: Abstract should not be more than 200 words.

Professor Harkishan Singh- a man with a mission"

In 1967-68 I was studying in the final year (1967-68) of the B. Pharmacy course in the Government College of Pharmacy, Bangalore (now Bengaluru) in Karnataka. There was so much of halla gulla about Medicinal Chemistry practical examination that our teacher told us read Morrison & Boyd's Organic Chemistry book. We had only one copy of the book in the library and we used to get it issued turn by turn for overnight home reading. There was a sigh of relief on the day of the examination when we came to know that the examiner who was to come from North India could not make it. The examiner was none other than Professor Harkishan Singh!

It took some years before I would have a close encounter with Professor Harkishan. Singh. As destiny would have it I ended up serving Panjab University under his stewardship. When I joined Panjab University in January 1979, Professor Harkishan Singh was the Head of the Department. He was responsible for my joining the University as a teacher.

The man with a mission:

Developing Pharmacology Research at PU:

Professor Harkishan Singh had taken a calculated risk in importing me from America. An unknown entity, South Indian- not sure how long he would stick in an unknown territory and always in the lookout for an opportunity to move back to USA or to some other and always in the lookout for an opportunity to move back to USA or to some other place (I was appointed to a senior position by the University without an interview, which was constantly questioned by political academics on the campus!). I could see which was constantly questioned by political academics on the campus!). I could see this anxiety playing on his (Professor Singh's) mind. But he had a mission to accomplish, i.e. to establish 'Pharmacology research' in the department. Within months of my joining

REPORT LABORATORY SAFETY PRACTICES

PDEA's Shankarrao Ursal College of Pharmaceutical Sciences and Research Centre, Kharadi, arranged a seminar on Laboratory Safety Practices on 15th March 2022. Dr. Bhaskar Idage (Senior Scientist, NCL, Pune) and Mr. Dashrath Borude (Ex.IAF, Director BHAIRAVI FIRE System, Pune.) were invited as a chief guest for this seminar.
